

Washington, DC Internship Opportunity

About Us:

The Pakistani American Political Action Committee (PAKPAC) is the only Pakistani American organization registered with the Federal Election Commission.

PAKPAC was founded in 1989 by a group of visionary Pakistani Americans. On the eve of the 1990 election in an increasingly complex world, our founders saw a need for greater political coordination, activism and advocacy.

Today, our adopted home, the United States, stands at difficult foreign policy crossroads. Decisions made in Washington will affect future generations across the globe. PAKPAC members are impacting and educating policymakers.

PAKPAC supports candidates who are committed to federal policies that promote good governance, education and security in Pakistan and civil liberties in the United States. PAKPAC endeavors to strengthen, unify and amplify the voice of Pakistani-American community in Washington.

Job Description:

PAKPAC is looking for a part time undergraduate intern studying in the Washington, DC area or willing to live in Washington for six to eight weeks. This exciting opportunity will allow you to not only personally meet leaders of the Pakistani American community, but Democratic and Republican elected officials.

The intern will work developing talking points, policy briefs, infographics, press releases and other material. Web design and social media advocacy experience is strongly encouraged. In the process, the intern will learn about the nexus between politics and policy having a front row seat during the 2020 elections.

Applicants should have a strong interest in current affairs and public policy. Our work is at the highest levels of Washington and on the campaign. Discretion and confidentiality is paramount.

The ideal applicant is well traveled with a curiosity for foreign policy and the role of America in the world. He or she is familiar with elections and the role Congress plays in shaping foreign policy.

Successful interns for PAKPAC could ultimately be rewarded next summer with placement on Capitol Hill and/or a front line political campaign.

Along with a resume and cover letter, applicants should provide three references. No phone calls, but please email info@pakpacusa.org with your application to schedule a phone interview.
